

NAVAL JUSTICE SCHOOL

Annual Course Catalog Fiscal Year 2020

Updated 19 June 2020

Naval Justice School History

Since the establishment of the Naval Justice School (NJS) in 1946 at Port Hueneme, California, NJS has annually trained thousands of Department of Defense (DoD) personnel in all aspects of military law. In 1950, NJS moved to its present location in Newport, Rhode Island. NJS currently provides accession-level and long-term legal training for all Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard lawyers, enlisted legal professionals, active and reserve. In addition, NJS provides training for civilian personnel, sea service commanders, legal officers, senior enlisted and others in the administration of military law.

Mission

Train all Sea Service (Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard) judge advocates, enlisted, and civilian legal professionals to deliver quality legal services, promote justice, and enhance Sea Service fleet readiness.

Train Sea Service leaders and legal support personnel to perform their command and staff duties in accordance with United States and international laws.

Registration and Enrollment

Naval Justice School (NJS) uses an open enrollment concept which allows individuals to apply for courses year round. Enrollment will close 10 weeks prior to the courses convene date. Course Coordinators will make their selections and a quota selection announcement will be sent out 8 weeks prior to the convene date to identify those who have and have not received a quota.

How to Apply

NJS uses a fillable PDF, that can be found at the website listed below. Once the Quota Submission Form (QSF) is filled out it will then be emailed to the registrar email address listed below. You will then receive an automatic reply that your QSF has been received. The Quota Submission Form is the only means of requesting to attend a course.

Classified Information Litigation

Washington, DC

Course Description—This intermediate course is designed to explain and then build upon foundational concepts and issues related to litigation involving classified information (CI). Examples are primarily focused on criminal cases officially designated as National Security Cases (NSCs), but also include Federal civil litigation and courts-martial which only involve CI tangentially. Instructors and guest speakers are experienced subject matter experts from across the Services and the Interagency Intelligence Community, who are brought in to explain nuanced complexities and illustrate how and why cases involving CI tend to take substantially longer to litigate even when they are not designated as NSCs. Topics will include: general classified information security and handling; personnel security clearance eligibility, including access for military attorneys, civilian attorneys, and accused; coordination with Original Classification Authorities (OCAs); courtroom preparation for classified sessions; classification review process and declassification of evidentiary documents; M.R.E. 505 and 506 procedures and application; and charging decisions under both the UCMJ and Federal Code.

Prerequisites—SECRET level security clearance is required to attend this course and must be confirmed in advance of Day 1 of the course.

Target Audience— Judge advocates serving in core and senior trial/defense counsel billets with a priority for counsel detailed to cases involving classified information and/or national security.
